802 TERRY AVENUE

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98104

Dear Class of 1982,

Our faith in Catholic education is being challenged, and will continue to be challenged and even discouraged in spite of the achievements we have made. I am aware that mere memorization of rules and doctrine mean nothing. Too many of my generation have fallen from the Faith despite that kind of academic and behavioral discipline. Catholic education may indeed be basically romanticized, and even tainted with a lingering bitterness over the sometimes arbitrary discipline and senseless regimentation considered common enough in my time: it was all expected and inevitable, and we adjusted to it, more or less.

Students today are forced by the media, by their cosmopolitan society, by their after school jobs and by their own family experiences at times to enter the non-Christian, non-believer's world at a very tender age. One might say that your appreciation of non-religion is precocious. Mere catechizing cannot convince you of, nor protect you from, the negative, passive, and blasé attitudes toward Christian principles harbored by the larger world. Catholic education must be more than academics: it must be a practical experience in itself which influences your choice of lifestyle and belief. It is my contention that our Catholic schools must provide you with an "x" factor that you can get nowhere else.

Our lectures on charity and goodness and the American way are literally drowned in similar rhetoric from other agencies: cultic, political, the Moral Majority. What you are hungering for, I think, are not more homilies and injunctions to ingenuous goodness, but a practical experience of what goodness and mercy and nobility are built upon—Christian justice. Justice is not an alternative to charity, but its very foundation. For only true appreciation of one's neighbor will engender true love of neighbor. Only in giving one's neighbor what is his in justice will one be able to demonstrate true love. And only in being appreciated justly will one find real love.

You see not the meek inheriting the earth, but the aggressive; you see the nasty and downright evil excelling and succeeding; you see fellow employees gain advancement and salary increases by fraud; you see criminals being exonerated by smug lawyers; you see graft and corruption rewarded by political gain; you see mediocrity and avarice being euphemistically termed "upward mobility". In short, Christian justice-giving persons what is rightfully theirs—often appears to be a very large joke.

Here, perhaps, is where Catholic education can provide a refreshing experience: discipline that is rooted in justice; teaching that is professional and concerned; coaching that is sensitive to students' needs... an atmosphere in which goodness and sincerity count for something; in which personal problems are treated with respect and dignity. It is not wholly unreasonable to speculate that a young man's experience at O'Dea might be his one and only experience with practical justice; He might not see it again, and often may have to refer to it in later life in order to prove to himself that justice is more than a romantic theory.

Speak not only to God about your Faith and your hopes: speak also to your mothers and fathers. Perhaps you will thereby inherit the nobility of spirit which will make you want to pass the Faith on as it was passed on to you. Your acceptance of the Faith will ensure that, in the future, O'Dea will remain a truly Catholic school, and a working example of Christian justice.

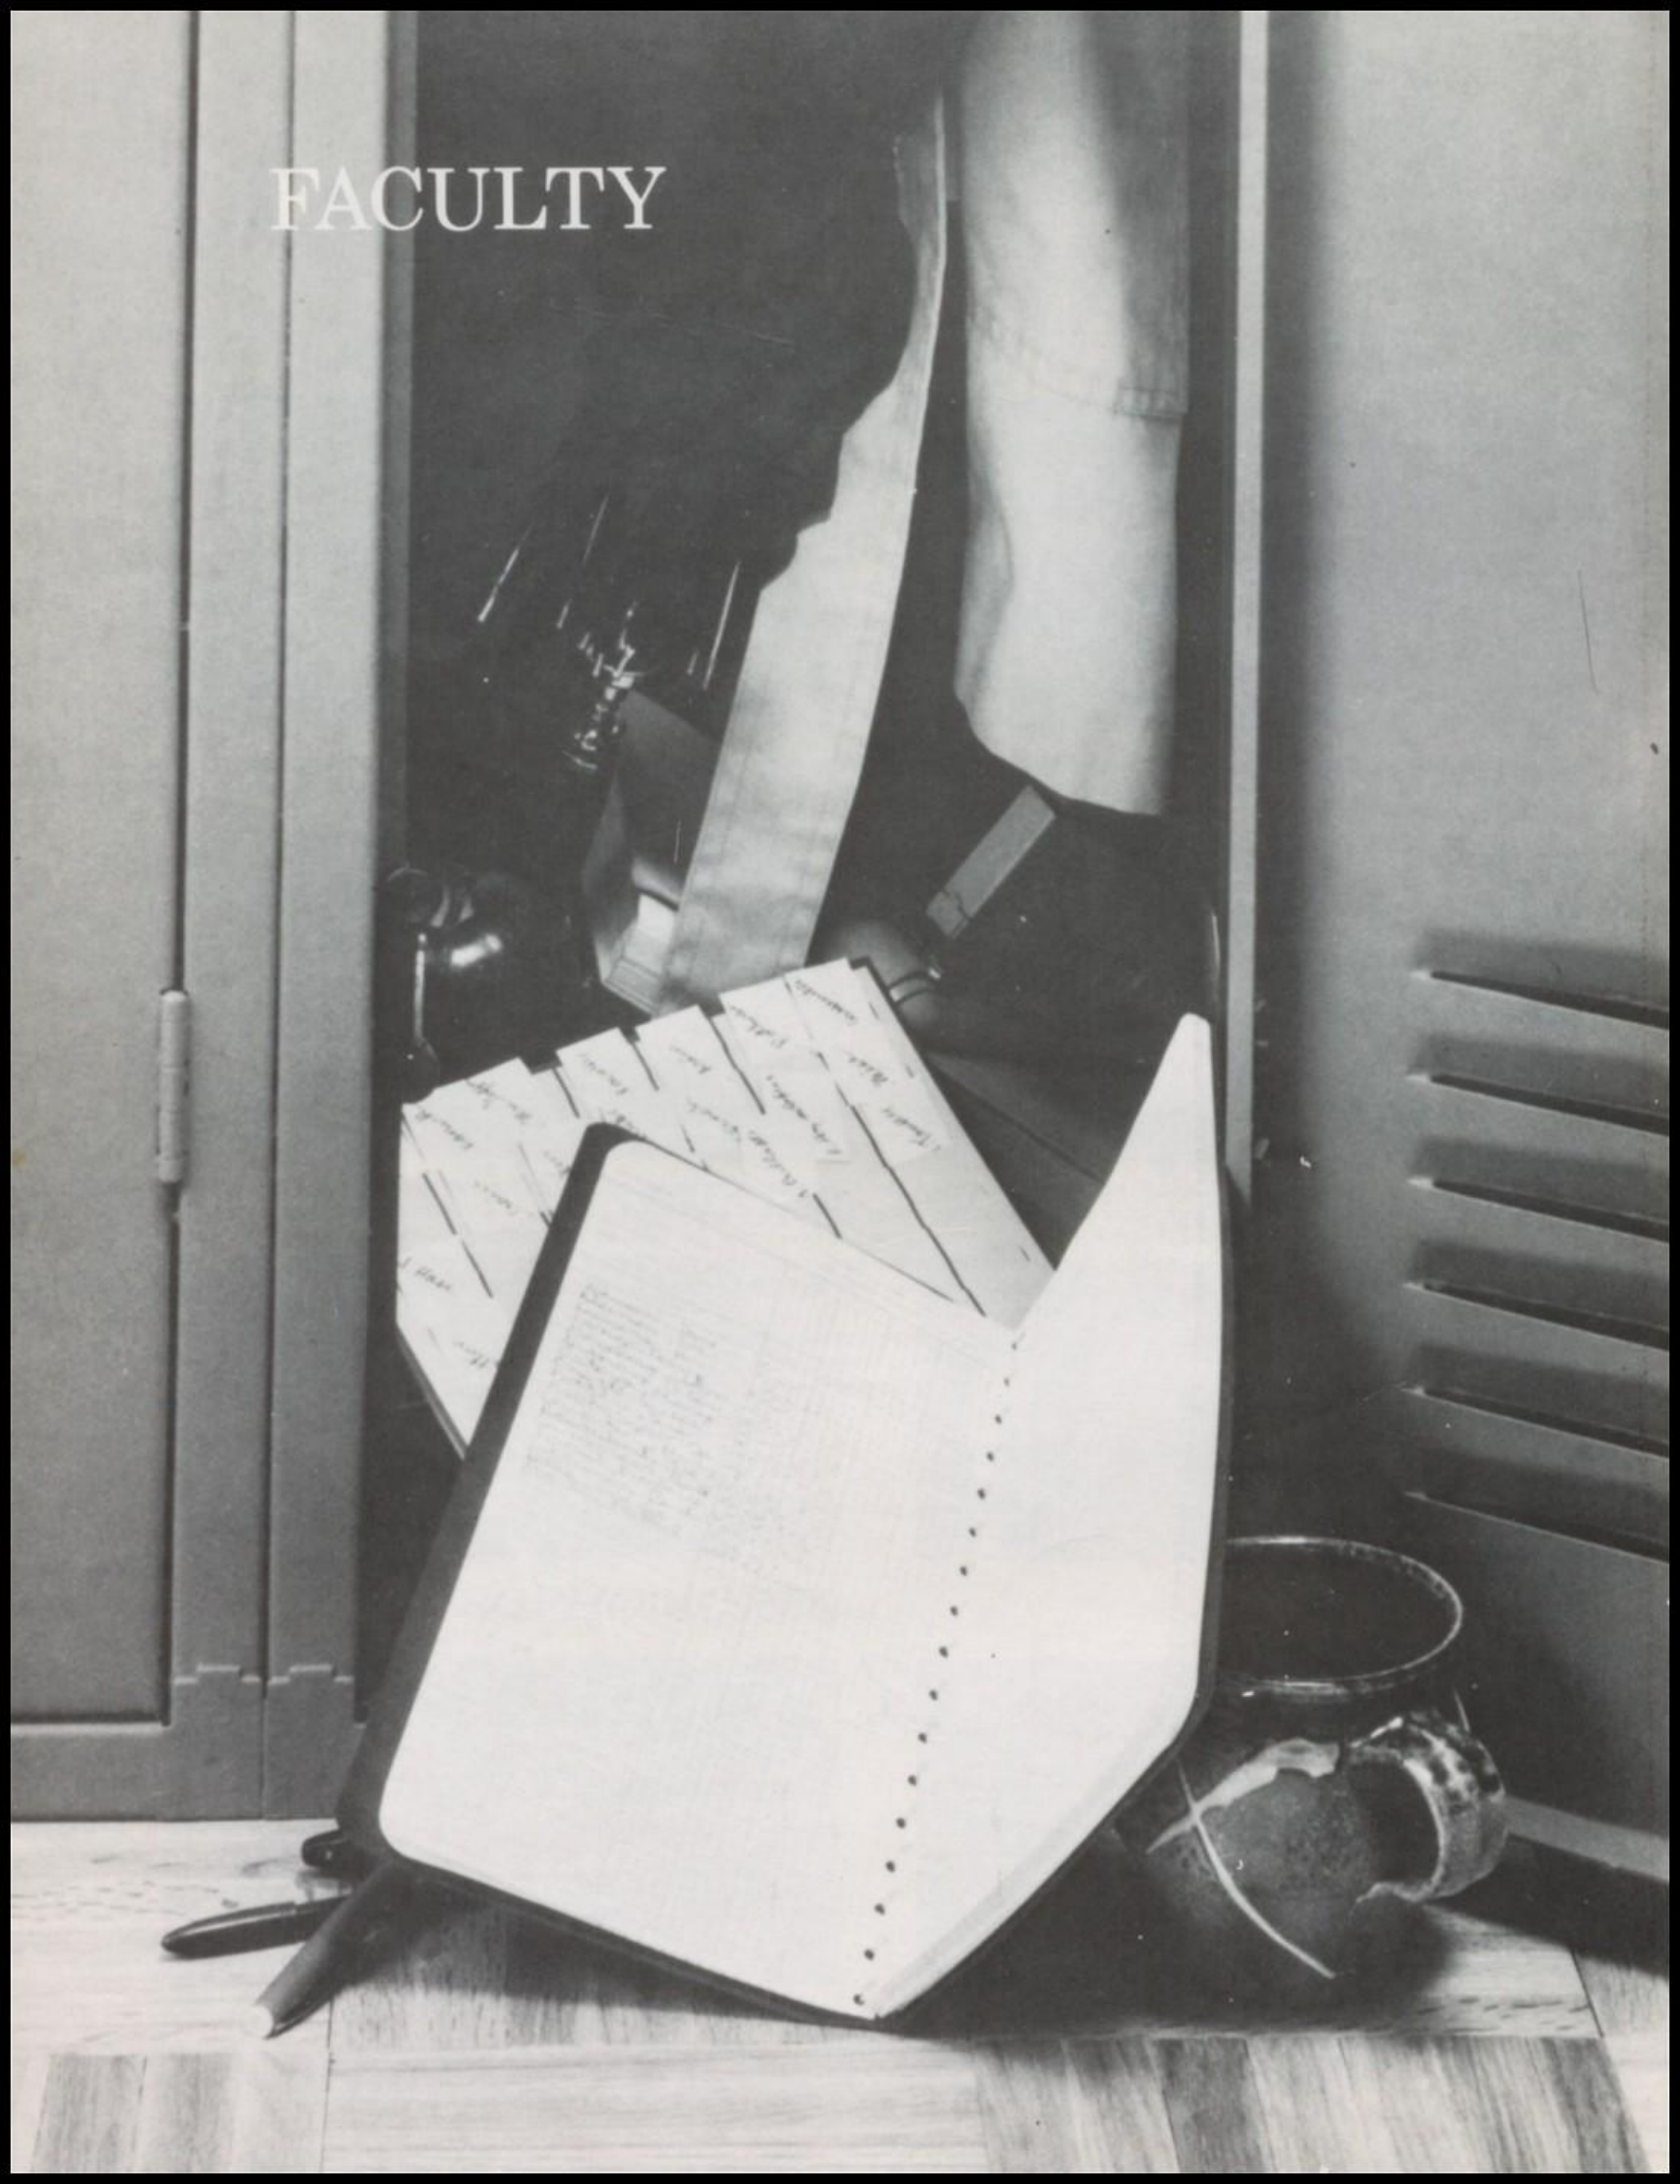

Sincerely,

Br. A.M. Arndt, etc

CHES CLUB

The 1982 Chess Club returned to action this year with a single team. Last year's A & B teams were condensed into one team promising to do very well during the season. Our top boards were Dan Rempe, John Rempe, Wally Badley, Matt Camillon and Harold Bobroff. The three top boards were rated chess players from last years team and unfortunately all seniors. However, the remaining two were freshmen, and will form a strong nucleus for future teams.

The game of Chess requires much skill and knowledge. It involves complicated moves and some power plays. These requirements of Chess can be found in all the members of the Club.

This year's Student Council can best be described as one of firsts. The executive council, consisting of President Mark Smith, Vice President Paul Donaldson, Secretary Richard Cuff, and Treasurer Kevin Whelan, worked with a new moderator, Br. P.L. Vorlick, to provide dances, assemblies, and other functions. Some firsts for the school were: a joint assembly with Holy Names Academy, the formation of SUCH (Students United in Catholic High Schools), and revision of the Student Constitution. The Student Council went through a period of change and growth, but it was still able to organize several successful functions for the Student Body.

OLYMPIAN STAFF

MINISTAFF DOES IT AGAIN

Once again the Olympian Staff, under new moderation by Mr. Robert Mohrbacher, accomplished another production of the Olympian yearbook. Consisting of only five seniors and two underclassmen, the staff made it through the thick and thin of deadlines.

The layout staff, made up of the Assistant-Editors Fred Dimalanta and Thom Andriesen, and new senior recruit John Saito toiled many tedious hours after school and sometimes nights to finish their work. Editor in Chief, Steve Lunde, was not only involved with the layout staff and photography, but also with the business and management side of the yearbook. In the Photography Department was Matt Curry, who spent many many hours in the darkroom printing and developing for the yearbook.

Working as a team for the past 3½ years, Steve, Fred, Thom and Matt turned out, what they think, one of the best books they've ever done, considering they were the only ones who turned up at work sessions 90% of the time. The yearbook for next year has a grim outlook. If there is no surge of support for the book by students, it seems doubtful that there will even be a book.

No, this is not a glee club practice session, but the Olympian staff hard at work — well, almost.

CROSIER

SENIORS DOMINATE STAFF

1981-82 Crosier Staff

The 1981-82 Crosier was the end result of a big effort made by a dedicated group of individuals. The goal of the staff was to provide a quality paper that would keep the students up to date on the happenings in and around the school, as well as entertain the reader with feature articles and guest writers.

Putting together a newspaper is no easy job. It requires many hours of planning, reporting, writing, and paste-up before the actual paper is even seen. At the helm of this year's paper was Senior Editor Dan O'Leary. Dan had the needed experience and know-how necessary to put out the paper and guide the staff. Assisting Dan was Assistant Editor Jim Nystrom, as well as next year's Editor David Read.

This year's staff was made up mostly of Seniors and Juniors. They did an excellent job of reporting and writing the news. Special mention should also be given to this year's Moderator, Brother Donald F. McGovern. Brother helped out the staff in all areas of the paper, as well as arrange for workshops conducted with some of the areas local newspapers.

MOTHERS' CLUB

MOTHERS KNOW BEST

The consistent and effective support of our school from the O'Dea Mothers is as necessary as it is inspiring. Their devoted involvement with every aspect of their son's lives surely increases the potential for steady advancement toward his goals. Mothers' familiarity with O'Dea and its objectives helps greatly to support the work of the school in preparing their sons to become fully aware and active Christian gentlemen.

The administration consists of Mrs. Mary Anne Fleck as President, Mrs. Judy Bouse as Vice President, Mrs. Diane Walsh as the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Peg Parietti as the Recording Secretary and Mrs. Pat Isaksen as Treasurer. Some events sponsored by the O'Dea Mothers include; Meet the Faculty Night, the Fall Luncheon, the Family Christmas Party, Open House, Mother/Son Senior Mass and, of course, POSH. All the love and attention devoted by the Mothers of O'Dea to our school is very necessary and thoroughly appreciated.

FATHERS' CLUB

The Fathers' Club of O'Dea is an informal organization whose membership is open to all fathers of O'Dea students and any man interested in the advancement of the spiritual, academic and athletic life of the school.

This year the administrative officers were Mr. John Baginley as President, Mr. Jerry Harrington as Vice President, Mr. Bob Beeson as the Recording Secretary, Mr. Dave Irwin as the Corresponding Secretary and Mr. Harold McChesney as Treasurer. The Fathers' Club sponsors such events as the Father-Son Spaghetti Dinner, the Italian Dinner and the Faculty Appreciation Dinner. Keep up the terrific work.

CHEERLEADERS

WE LIKE OUR CHEERLEADERS . . . RAH! RAH! RAH!

1981-82 O'Dea Cheerleaders: Annie Welch, Janet Anderson, Mary Leers, Barb Farris, Barbie Tobin, Chris Kulfan.

Last spring six girls were chosen from Holy Names Academy to represent O'Dea as their cheerleaders. After a summer of practice and cheerleading camp, they presented themselves to the Irish with many new and imaginative ideas.

These talented girls supported the Irish football, basketball and soccer teams through posters and pep assemblies. Yet, their most important job was to share their enthusiasm with the Irish fans in victory and defeat.

INSTRUMENTAL ENSEMBLE

In the 1981-82 school year O'Dea had the privilege of having a Jazz Ensemble after a long hiatus in the school music program. Although rather small compared to other high school bands, the O'Dea band members took pride in the music they performed. Which included playing at football games, basketball games, pep rallies, and the O'Dea Christmas Party.

Directed by Mr. Robert Cooper, also the head of the school music department, the O'Dea band was divided into two sections; the brass section and the rhythm section. The brass section included three trumpet players: Don Craggs, Eric King, and Andrew Read; three trombone players: John Hiller, Mark Allen, and Tim Walsh; two saxophonists: Andy Barnecut and Joe Florendo; and one French horn: Jim Thien.

The rhythm section consisted of bassist Spencer Murray, guitarist John Ringbloom, drummers Mark Smith and Andy Marquardt, pianist Tom Lorang, and auxiliary percussionists Patrick Camilon and Mike Marquardt.

The band listed their music under two categories: Pep and Jazz. Some of the Pep songs included "Hot Lunch Jam", "Tequila", and of course the O'Dea Fight Song. Some of the Jazz pieces included "Basin Street Blues", "Gettin' On With It", "Bandstand Boogie", "Rise", and "Watch What Happens".

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

Mike Cimino and Pete Fisher do it to their duet.

After a year's absence, Chorus emerged this year as Vocal Ensemble under the direction and perserverence of Mr. Cooper. This group became one of the best high school vocal groups in the Seattle area, with a definite future of excellent performances. The ensemble sang a variety of music. This included religious songs, Christmas carols, fast-moving Jesuit songs, and even some P.D.Q. Bach. The group appeared at church services, paraliturgies, and other public functions.

ATHLETICS

VARSITY FOOTBALL

GRIDDERS FINISH 4-3

This year's varsity football team had a new look; for the first time in many years the team included all of the Sophomores. In past years the Sophomores practiced as a separate unit and only two or three made it on the varsity team. The reason for this abrupt change was a record low number of Juniors and Seniors turning out. This was not a setback for the team because the Sophomores seemed to have brought a new spirit.

The Coaching staff was led by Mr. Crafton, and backed up by assistants: Messrs. Schmuhl, Hensley, Honey, Jan-ecke and Ursino. This staff was more efficient and aware than in past years. One example of the efficiency achieved by this new group was the detailed scouting reports on the teams played. Another example of the reformation was newly painted locker rooms, a towel service, and the bringing of Gatorade to the game.

In the season opening Jamboree, the Irish lost a tough 6-0 battle against the Franklin Quakers who were picked to win the AAA title. The Irish looked strong on offense with the line giving great time to Kevin Chandler and opening holes for the backs. Some standouts of the offensive line were Tom Johnson, Joe Moriarty, Ken Moriarty and one of the most outstanding linemen, Dan Moriarty.

Friday, September 18, the Irish trounced West Seattle.

The first quarter was definitely not the highlight of the game, as the Irish found out that a slipshod play can not beat even West Seattle. The team just could not execute plays or hold onto the ball. In the second quarter the Irish pulled things together and showed some good team play and took the lead into the locker room. The atmosphere in the locker room was highly emotional. West Seattle had been using some cheap maneuvers such as holding and punching on the line. The Irish, however would not stoop to the level of West Seattle and went out to play with added gusto. O'Dea showed them what Irish pride meant and went on to win by a score of 33-0. Impressive to say the least.

The Irish running backs of Jim Small, Erwin Chappel, Jerry Jordan and Joe Buchanan were tough to stop. At quarterback this year was Kevin Chandler who was backed by Donald Jackson and Kevin Whelan. Chandler had a strong arm and was on target more than his statistics showed. The linebacking core looked awesome with the likes of Tom Johnson and Jim Small. After two tough losses to the Prep Panthers last year, the Irish got their vengeance with a 13-9 victory. If O'Dea was ever ready for a game, it was this one. All week the Irish concentrated on stopping Seattle Prep's only major threat - their passing game - and they did a good job as Prep scored no touchdowns on offense.

On Friday night, October 2, the Irish lost a tough game to the Chief Sealth Seahawks. The Irish won the statistical battle but lost on the scoreboard. No points were scored on either defense. Sealth did score, however, by running a punt back for over 70 yards and a touchdown. A hard fought game, but the Seahawks won it 7-3.

The Irish got back on the winning streak on Thursday night as they trounced Cleveland by a score of 15-0. Erwin Chappel was the main force in the game with 117 yards rushing and two touchdowns. The Irish had many chances to score but fumbled twice.

"Turnovers always hurt you," admitted head coach Ed Crafton, "you can't win games by giving the ball to the other team. We stopped ourselves. No other team had what it took to beat our team, we simply beat ourselves." When asked about the added inspiration and enthusiasm the team seemed to boast this year, coach Crafton seemed pleased, saying: "Yes, this year's group of guys were terrific. We had a great bunch of kids both on and off the field."

Let me at 'em! Me first! Get out of my way!

CROSS COUNTRY

VICTORY AND THE AGONY OF DE FEET

This year the Irish Cross Country runners finished a successful and very competitive season with a 6-5 win-loss record. Making up one of the bigger Cross Country teams O'Dea has seen in quite a few years, were returning lettermen and many new freshmen and other underclassmen.

The team, led by Captain Dan O'Leary, took third at the Metro finals, and later picked up tenth place at the District meet amidst many other AAA and AA schools. The right hand men to O'Leary in the Senior power force were Jim Nystrom, Dan Lavalley, Pat Dempsey and Mike Jorgenson. You can look forward to seeing the senior spaces being filled in the upcoming years by Ed Tomkins, John Carver, Chris Matthews, Joe Levan and Bob Easter - just to name a few.

If good coaching makes a good team, this team can be considered excellent. Head Coach Frank LaFazia has given fifteen seasons of excellent coaching to O'Dea Cross Country. It is apparent that many more noteworthy running teams will come from O'Dea in the future.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

THE IRISH AWESOME FORCE

The 1981-82 Irish varsity basketball team, coached by Jim Schmuhl, started off the season on a good note by winning their first three league games, and going 3-3 against tough non-league opponents. They have earned a 6-3 overall record as of this publication.

Led by All American forward Joe Buchanan, the Irish are shooting for the top of Metro AA. Buchanan has been the dominant factor in several games, with his clutch shooting, aggressive rebounding, and tenacious defense. Adding to the Irish front line are "supersoph" Eric Nelson, and seniors Dan Moriarty, Jerry O'Bryan and Mark Modica, who alternate starting roles. What the front line lacks in height, they make up for with desire and hustle.

The Irish backcourt complements the front line well, with the shooting abilities of junior Troy Miles, and seniors Erwin Chappel and Jim Harrington, scoring opportunities are opened up for the rest of the team.

Another Irish advantage is bench strength. At any time, a starting player can come out for a breather without losing any aspect of the game. This makes the Irish attack even more potent since it allows for a fully rested team.

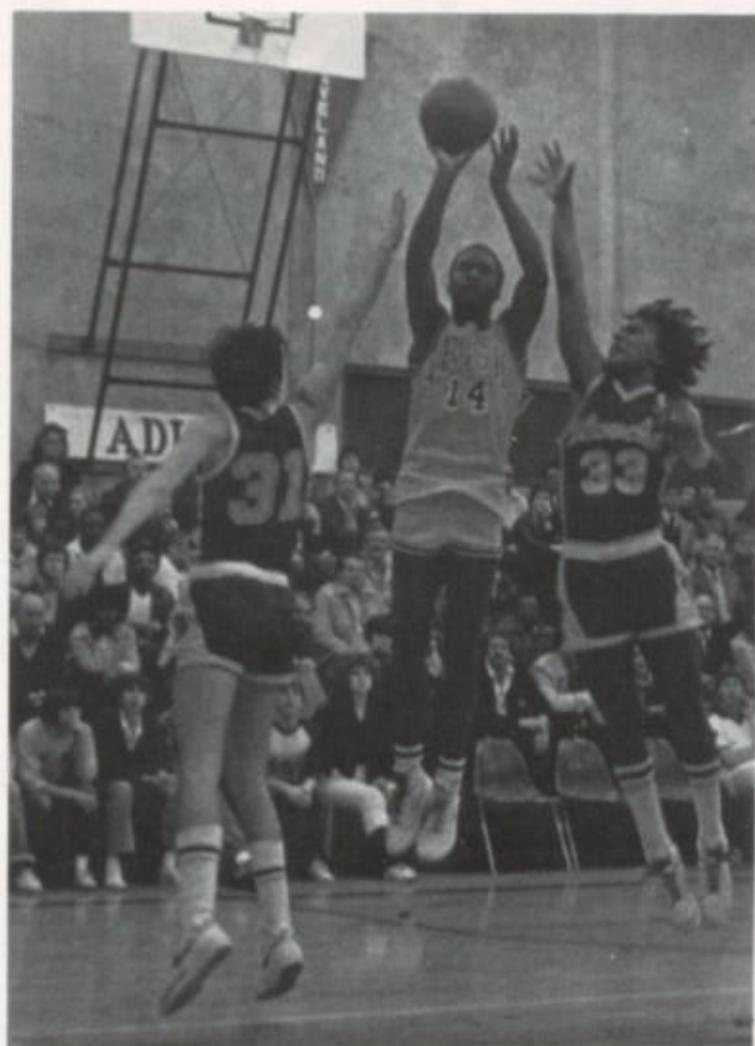

As of now, it looks like the Irish could be headed for another Metro title. For the final results of the basketball season check the spring supplement.

IT'S TEE TIME

This year's Golf team had an excellent turnout of students. The superb performance of such players as Stephen Scheer, Mike Mirante, Bill Parietti, Scott Fuchs, Jet Singh, Joe Prevost and Guy Pelligrini helped the Irish to a 6-2-2 win-loss-tie record - Fourth in Metro. Let us hope for the future that the team will continue to improve under the coaching of Br. Lackie.

O'Dea High School

802 TERRY AVENUE

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98104

May 1982

Fellow classmates and O'Dea Faculty,

There is a saying which goes like this, "It is better to have entered and lost than to never have entered at all." In my four years at O'Dea, I feel as though I took a chance, entered, and won the first prize. That prize was the chance to meet and make friends with the students and faculty at O'Dea High School.

O'Dea has been more than just an institution for learning; it has also been like a second home. The superb education and personal attention given to each individual prepares him for whatever he may face as he leaves O'Dea.

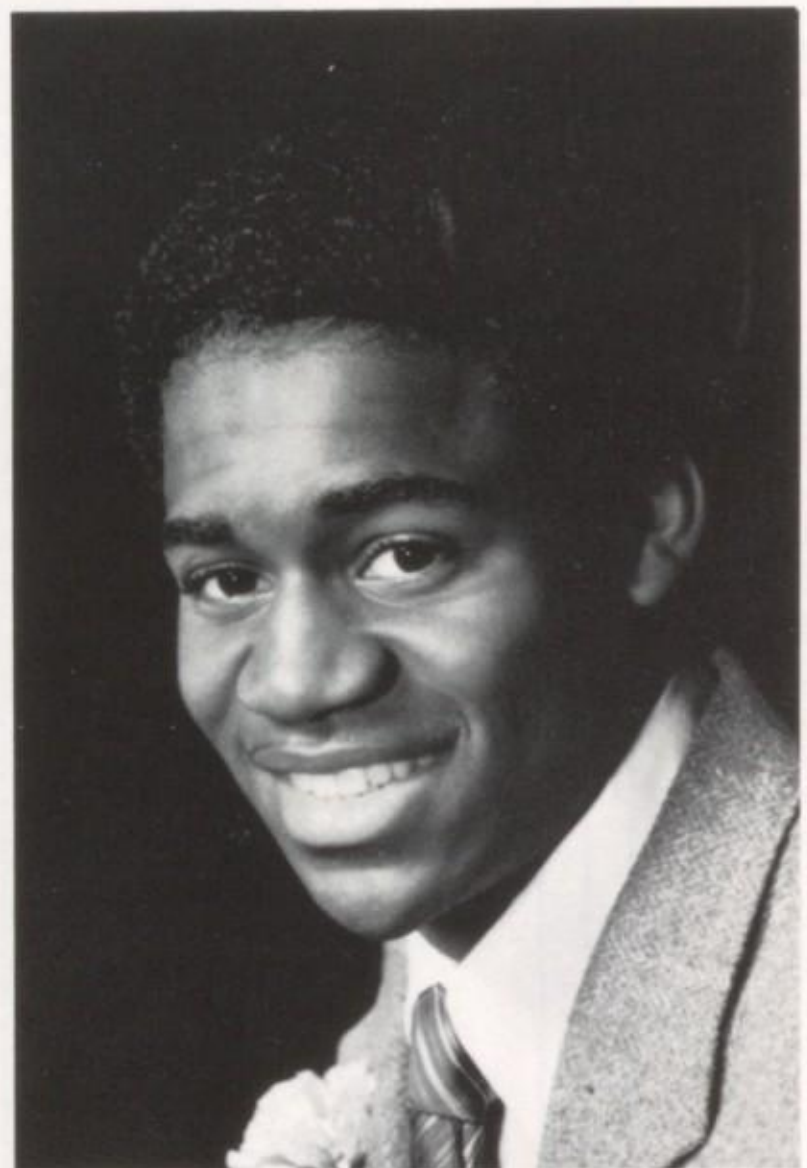

I thank God, my parents, and family for my years at O'Dea, because without their guidance, the four-year road which I had to travel would not have been so smooth.

In closing, I would like to say that you, the students and faculty at O'Dea, have made my stay one to always remember.

Sincerely,

Mark A. Smith

Mark A. Smith
